III. My Historical Background [\[Back to Top\]](#)

Early forms of martial arts can be traced to ancient Korea, China, and Okinawa. Dr. Galloway's particular historical background is traced back to the 1700's. This reports - like a family tree - styles, schools and instructors from that time leading to Dr. Galloway.

Part 1.

Iwah and Wai Shin-Zan (Ancient Chinese Kempo - 1700's) taught Sokon Matsumura (Shuri-Te Okinawan Karate - 1790). Matsumura then taught Yasutsune Itosu (Okinawan Karate, 1830-1915).

Liu Liu Ko (Ancient Chinese Kempo - 1790) taught Kanryo Higashionna (Okinawan Karate, 1851-1915).

Itosu and Higashionna and Chosin Chibana (Okinawan Karate, 1887-1969) all three taught Kanken Toyama (Shudokan Karate, 1888-1966). Kanken Toyama then taught Byung In Yoon (Kwonbop - Seoul, Korea, 1945) - who also had learned Chuan Fa (Chinese Kung Fu) in Manchuria.
[\[Back to Top\]](#)

Part 2.

Byung In Yoon then taught both Nam Sok Lee (Chang Moo Kwan - 1947) and Chull He Park (Kang Duk Won - 1956). Both were instrumental in starting modern TaeKwonDo.

Founder of Hapkido (1946), Yong Shul Choi taught Han Jae Ji (Hapkido - 1961).

Masters Nam Sok Lee, Chull He Park and Han Jae Ji all three taught Grandmaster Kim Soo (Chayon-Ryu, 1968).

Grandmaster Kim Soo taught Dr. Jerry P. Galloway, 1978 (Chun Tong, 1983). Dr. Galloway is the 2nd generation student directly from the origin of modern TaeKwonDo and Hapkido. He also has close ties (above) to the origin of Shudokan Karate and Chinese Chuan-Fa.

VI. Chun Tong Moo Do Traditional Martial Arts

전통 무도

[\[Back to Top\]](#)

TMA School Web Page..... <http://jerrygalloway.com/tma/>

- 1983 - Eclectic style of martial arts founded by Dr. Jerry P. Galloway.

In Korean, the name, Chun Tong, means Tradition. Traditional Martial Arts (Chun Tong Moo Do) is the name adopted by Dr. Galloway in 1982 for his school. The name signifies the content, class style and commitment to the traditional approach of martial arts training.

- Content and System

Chun Tong is made up of 4 major art forms: TaeKwonDo, Shudokan Karate, Chuan-Fa (Kung Fu), and Hapkido. As the Chayon-Ryu style emerged from its predecessors (Chang Moo Kwan and Kang Duk Won), so too has Chun Tong evolved from Chayon-Ryu. See Historical Background, Section III above.
