2 rounds...

She looks in the mirror and stares at the wrinkles
That - weren't there yesterday
And thinks of the young man that she almost married
What would he think if he saw her this way?

She picks up her apron in little girl-fashion
As something comes into her mind
Slowly starts dancing remembering her girlhood
And all of the boys she had waiting in line

Oh, - such are the dreams of the everyday housewife
You see everywhere any time of the day
An everyday housewife who gave up the good life for me

2 round setup...

The photograph album she takes from the closet
And slowly turns the first page
And carefully picks up the crumbling flower
The first one he gave her now withered with age

She closes her eyes and
Touches the house dress that, suddenly disappears
And just for the moment she's wearing the gown
That broke all their minds back so many years
